Case of the Month: SurgiWire Wrinkle Release with Dr. Kelly

Over time, age, sun exposure and facial expressions create facial lines and cause them to deepen. The muscles under your skin are responsible for this happening.

Although most facial lines, depressions, folds or depressed scars are treated with some type of filler there are some deep folds, lines, wrinkles or scars that are resistant to this type of treatment.

A new, minimally invasive procedure, The SurgiWire Wrinkle Release, allows me to release the underlying muscle attachment that causes these lines and wrinkles.

The SurgiWire is compromised of two small needles connected by a very thin wire. The wire gets threaded under the skin forming a loop around the line or wrinkle to be treated. The SurgiWire is then moved back and forth to dissect and basically lift the attachment of the line. Once the attachment is separated, the facial line is instantly released. Following the release, the area can be injected with fat as a spacer to hold the skin up. No incisions need to be made.

The SurgiWire Wrinkle Release can be done as a stand alone treatment under local anesthesia or in combination with another procedure. The longevity of results vary, but in my experience patients can see lasting results for years,

In this particular case, I performed the SurgiWire Wrinkle Release in conjunction with a blepharoplasty (eyelid surgery). In the Before picture, you will notice the depth of the crease in the patient’s glabella, which is the area directly between the eyebrows.

Product of the Month:
Obagi Medical Product Systems

Summer is winding down and it's time to get serious about your skin. The summer season’s heat and humidity have most likely taken a toll on your skin no matter how careful you were about sunscreen. Outdoor activities such as swimming and tanning strip your skin of essential oils and nutrients causing skin to become dry, brittle and exposed with blemishes.

Let’s be honest, repair isn’t going to happen overnight. Our recommendation? One of Obagi's skincare systems! No matter what your unique skin care needs are, Obagi has a system in their skin care arsenal that will help you achieve the results you're looking for.

After a year and a half at MPS, Ashley Britton, one of our favorite front desk girls, is leaving us!

Although we're sad, we’re extremely proud of our girl! Ashley, who just received her M.S.Ed in Mental Health Counseling from the University of Miami, is pursuing her PhD in Counseling Pyschology at the University of Georgia.

Ashley’s end goal? To start her own psychotherapy practice and consult as a court expert doing evaluations & assessments.

We have no doubt she will accomplish her goals!

Best of luck Ashley! We will miss you!

Q & A with Dr. Herman

Q. I recently heard someone talk about MAC Anesthesia What does that mean? Is it different from general anesthesia?

A: MAC, which stands for Monitored Anesthesia Care, is a state of conscious sedation. The patient receives pain medicine and sedatives intravenously to induce relaxation and drowsiness. However, the patient is still conscious and capable of responding to verbal or practice.

And while many things have changed over the last 25 years, one thing that remains constant is the importance Dr. Wolf places on the actual relationship with his patients.

“It is a celebration of 25 years of not only meeting, but also establishing lasting relationships with patients and being able to make a positive difference in their lives," says Dr. Wolf. "I genuinely love my patients and they seem to like me too!"

WE ALL LOVE YOU DR. WOLF!

Here’s to another 25 years!

You're So Vain!

In a recent study done by Men's Health on Vainest Cities in the US, two Florida cities were in the top ten. Miami came in at #8 and Tampa won top honors at #1.

We shouldn’t be too surprised as The Sunshine State has a long history of going to great lengths to look good. 500 years pre-Botox, a man by the named of Ponce de Leon, physical stimulation. Unlike general anesthesia, the patient is able to breathe on their own and does not need a breathing tube. With MAC, an anesthesiologist is present to monitor vital signs and administer intravenous medications.

General anesthesia is the deepest form of sedation. The patient is in a controlled state of unconsciousness where they won't see, hear, feel or remember anything that happens. General anesthesia is commonly produced by a combination of intravenous drugs and inhaled gases. A breathing tube is used to assist with the patient's breathing. As with MAC, an anesthesiologist is present to monitor your breathing as well as your body's vital functions.

I know the thought of anesthesia can be a little scary. To ensure our patients' safety, we only use board-certified anesthesiologists to administer anesthesia at MPS. These are doctors who have completed a minimum of a 4-year residency in anesthesiology after medical school. They have also passed board exams and participate in continuing medical education to stay current on the latest medical techniques and advances.
